PRESIDENTS REPORT

1985 has been a historical year for the University Boat Club.

For those that do not know, Oxford beat Cambridge in the Boat Race to record our longest ever winning sequence of ten consecutive victories. One member of the Oxford crew, Bruce Philp of Worcester already had a Blue from Cambridge and thus became the first man to be awarded a Blue at both universities for rowing. He has also been elected, by the College Captains, to the office of President for the 1986 Boat Race.

As ex-President, Graham Jones, said in his report last year to the outside observer, Oxford's winning of the Boat Race may have a certain inevitability about it. If that were the case (and with the exception of one or two years, I know it has not been so) then the outcome of the 1985 Boat Race was anything but inevitable with Cambridge producing what was probably their strongest crew of the last decade. This years Boat Race will, I hope, be remembered not only as the 'tenth in a row' for Oxford, but also as a great victory after an extremely hard, well fought race.

The Oxford Isis crew, stroked by Chris Bourne, and captained by Donald Macdonald, rowed superbly well on the day, defeating Goldie by some 18 seconds and equalling the course record of 17 minutes and 36 seconds for the Isis/Goldie race.

These results are the product of an enormous amount of hard work and time. Though it is always up to the crews themselves on the day to produce their best ever form, we owe a great deal to everyone else who has helped us, throughout the year, to realise ambitions and potential and to make the chance of success that much greater. My thanks for this year's race go to the Blue Boat coaches, headed by Dan Topolski, the Isis coaches headed by Keith Mason and to the numerous coaches who braved the pot holes of the towpath in Michaelmas term. I would also like to thank Ladbrokes for their continuing sponsorship of the event, to County Dairies for their daily pinta and the many other sponsors who have helped us.

For much help with the day to day running of the Club, I must thank Chris Bourne and Seth Lesser and Ian Tatchell. Thanks also to Michael Barry, the OUBC Treasurer, Albert Andrews for his continuing service, the OUBC Trust Fund, Jim Railton and his staff at the Sports Centre, Anne Blacket, physio extraordinaire, the T.W.A. for being so patient with us, Morag Simpson of OUWBC (well done), Alex

Bird of OULPC and the OUBC committee of Dave Aeron Thomas, Pip Mason, Leslie Clare, Dave Foster and Juliet Vickery.

Finally may I wish everyone, especially the College Captains, the best of luck for a successful Eights week and urge you to enter yourselves for the OUBC Cherwell trials after Eights and to try and take your college crews to Henley Royal Regatta on 4th July.

President's Report

OXFORD UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S BOAT CLUB

The 1985 Blue Boat was the most experienced and talented crew to emerge from the Isis in recent years. It proved to be the most successful too.

For once, we arrived in Henley as favourites for the big race. Preparation had gone well. We had won the University Pennant at the Women's Eights Head, finishing as top non-ARA crew, and the women's title at Reading Head. But we knew we were in for a hard race.

In the strong wind aligning the boats was difficult. As the umpires flag went down we were too close and clashed blades within 3 or 4 strokes. Suffering more than Cambridge from the clash we found ourselves a length down after 2 mins. However as the race progressed we gradually decreased the deficit. Despite further blade clashes we finally rowed Cambridge down to win by 3½ seconds.

It was a day of double celebrations, with Osiris winning the reserves race too. A severe blade clash at Remenham caused the umpire to stop the race. Restarted ¾ length down, Osiris powered through Blondie and went on to win by 8 seconds.

The Lightweight crew found their opposition just too strong. Cambridge pulled away from the start and won easily.

The Boat Race victory ended Cambridge's run of 3 wins. they will definitely be out for revenge next year but we intend to keep the trophy in Oxford. All but one of this years crew learned to row in Oxford. Good college rowers always form the basis of the OUWBC squad and we are already looking for oarswomen and coxes for the 1986 Boat Race crews. The 'Windrush' crews selected in 6th week are aimed at new trialists and provide valuable racing experience at a number of regattas including The National Championships. Details of Windrush trials will be announced over the tannoy this week.

Reflecting on the glory I must thank those who made it possible. The dedicated team of coaches led by Nigel Mayglothling, the boatmen who helped keep us afloat, Bill Parry, The Trust Fund and Jim Railton for financial assistance and of course Lynton Richmond and The OUBC for all their support. We are particularly grateful to all the college Boat Clubs who lent us equipment.

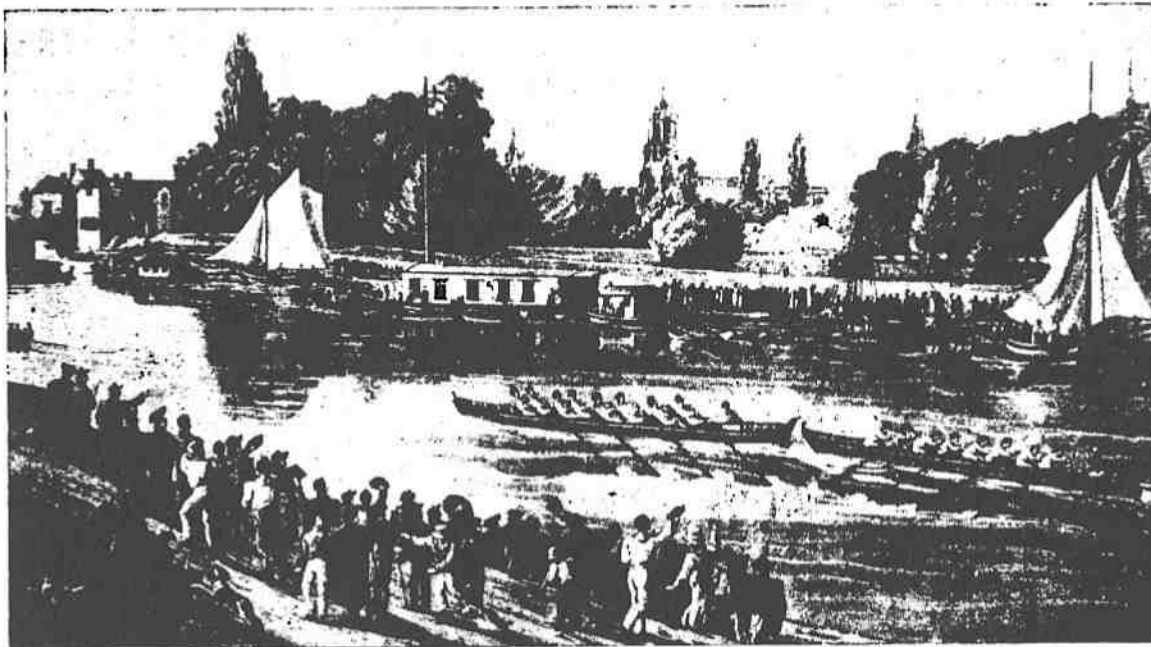

Finally I wish OUWBC continued success next year under new President Tish Reid, and to everyone competing in Eights, the very best of luck.

The Disputed Bump

In 1822 there arose "some little confusion of opinion as to the winner after a race between the B.N.C. and Jesus: a bump had taken place, owing to a crab that had occurred, which for a time delayed the B.N.C., but the race resulted in the B.N.C. coming in first."

BRAZIL TOUR 1985

QUESTION: What do Pina Coladas, Transvestites, Montezuma's revenge and Ronald Biggs all have in common?

ANSWER: They are all things one expect to encounter in Brazil, and encounter them we did.

Twenty pale-faced and extremely hung-over oarsmen representing Oxford and Cambridge flew out to Rio the day after the Boat race courtesy of Varig Airlines and Bradesco.

At the Sheraton hotel, where we stayed, the pool-side service was almost as fast, and a lot prettier, than Dan's first pick-up. In between the Pina Coladas, Embassy parties and Press receptions we had to go for the occasional dabble on the lake to keep the mosquitos and sponsors happy, both of which were thirsty for Oxbridge blood. This manifested itself in the hollowed out log which we were given to row in. Despite this, the incredible heat, and the somewhat biased starter, we still had to row outside-hand-off, feet-out and squared-blade to allow the home side to win, thereby ensuring that our somewhat extravagant room service bills got paid.

Rio was a place which came alive at 3 a.m. and so some of the entertainments on offer were out-of-bounds to conscientious oarsmen (which did not include us). Dan found this an excellent opportunity to publicise his new book 'The Oxford Revival' ('I Did It My Way'). Now every live sex show has its own complementary copy for instant reference, so that bewildered Brazilians can understand the meaning of 'fast hands'.

But I digress. We flew on to Sao Paulo for another gripping contest with the magnificent Brazilian Eight, which of course they won. I feel I should at this point, mention Cambridge who, aided by a sail and an outboard motor, somehow managed to finish on the same day as us this time.

After the race we managed to put the defeat and the transvestites behind us (cautiously that is) and returned to England in much the same subdued manner that we left with the addition of superb tans and loud tropical shirts.

On a more serious note, I would not wish the levity of this article to detract in any way from the generosity and hospitality of the Brazilians, who gave us a wonderful two weeks.

JOLLY BOATING WEATHER

Rowing brings out the best in one, or does it? In defence of the proposition a good oarsman (oarswoman) has to do two things simultaneously: concentrate on improving individual technique while synchronising one's effort with others. Thereby avoiding the self-centredness of cricket (pace the landlubbers) where personal averages matter so much. Nor does the obsession with rowing ever quite desert one. When Lord Desborough, one of the greatest all-round athletes and Oxford Rowing Blues of all time, was talking to one he used to flick his wrist at the end of a sentence as if he was finishing a stroke, clean, crisp and strong. Involuntary movements gave away his pastime.

A good stroke must not only have leadership, drive and inspiration, but a sound reliable rhythm, the very prerequisite of cohesion and togetherness in a crew. Musicians and poets have rhythm, and have sometimes made excellent strokes. Dick Holdsworth (First in Law, and Dean of 'Univ') was as compelling on the piano as stroking a crew. David Winser of Corpus, who stroked Oxford in the Boat Race, also won the University Prize for poetry, the Newdigate prize for English verse. Yehudi Menuhin may not have rowed, but would have imparted rhythm, if nothing else.

One of the most famous strokes, R.C. Bourne, not content with stroking Oxford to victory against Cambridge in four successive years, went on to become Deputy Speaker in the House of Commons, virtually stroking members into submission or surrender by a dexterous authority derived from . . . no, I must not exaggerate. But he knew how to control.

As for coxes, they steer all sorts of courses. One married the sister of the Queen. A recent cox, C. Moynihan, is now an M.P., and coxed the British national VIII to 5th place in the Los Angeles Olympics during the Summer recess. One pocket-edition of a cox, H.P.V. Massey, of Balliol, was so light at 5 stone 2 lbs, that his weight in the stern sometimes failed to keep the rudder in the water sufficiently to execute a turn. On one occasion he failed to get through Barnes Bridge, heading straight for the bank, but that is another story.

Of course, times have changed in other respects. Outings no longer end with stowing a boat away in the O.U.B.C., walking all the way up the towpath to one's College barge, waiting for the boatman to bring the punt across, pulling a chain to release cold, cold water over yourself while you stand in a tin tub, and emerge tingling with rude health. Mr. Best, the much respected, white-bearded ferryman, allowed no slipshod language in his punt and expected personal behaviour of a high order in his presence.

Gone are the days when Bishops were recruited, seemingly, from the ranks of Rowing Blues, and the Welsh Marches were protected by the Rowing Blue Bishops of Chester, Lichfield and Gloucester. The entire Oxford crew of the first Boat Race took Holy Orders, and ended up as Bishops, Deans, Prebendaries, and the like — no nepotism, just merit!

As for today, prowess on the river is not divorced from academic expectation. Many an oarsman (oarswoman), 'I like to take my exercise sitting down,' sets his sights on post-graduate work, a D.Phil., lecturing or research, and a goodly number succeed.

Far be it from me to extol the virtues of oarsmen too far, but a recent memory justifies it all. Danuta Shanzer of Corpus, who rowed for Oxford against Cambridge in 1979, is now Assistant Professor of Classics in the University of California in Berkeley. But at the Ninth International Conference on Patristic Studies in Oxford last September, dressed overall with dignity in episcopal purple, she mesmerised her audience with a brilliant paper on 'The death of Boethius and the Consolation of Philosophy'. The Chairman, Dean of Christ Church and Regius Professor of Divinity, whipped out his pen and made copious notes in honour of an outstanding piece of work.

The case is proved. Rowing can do no lasting harm. Individual progress, put to the benefit of the community, owes something to early training on the river. 'So we'll all swing together . . .'

EXCERPT FROM THE O.U.B.C. SPECIAL RULES FOR BUMPING RACES

57. Each boat shall start from a rope held by the cox, and fastened to a post on the Berkshire shore, the rope to be 50 feet in length.

58. The last boat shall be stationed above the Starting Ring, and the distance between the posts shall be 130 feet for Eights.

65. The President shall provide a starter who shall fire a signal gun for the boats to take their places; after four minutes another gun; after the interval of one minute another gun for the start; after this third gun the Race shall always be held to have begun . . .

67. When a boat touches any part of the boat in front of it, or its oars or rudder, it shall be considered a bump, and also if a boat rows clean by another it shall be equivalent to a bump.

69. After every bump the boat bumping shall change places with the boat bumped whatever be their order before starting.

WIN IN AN EMPACHER

At the Olympic Games in L.A. at the FISA Lightweight Championships in Montreal and at the FISA Junior Championships in Jankoping

Empacher boats won the following medals:

12 Gold
13 Silver
14 Bronze

In the Women's Head of the River race 1985
5 of the top 6 crews used Empacher boats

In the Men's Head of the River race 1985
11 of the top 17 crews used Empacher boats

Empacher Racing Boats congratulate Oxford University Boat Club on their tenth consecutive Boat Race win, in which they together with Cambridge, Isis and Goldie used an Empacher shell.

In this year's Summer Eights, Christ Church, Magdalen and Worcester are rowing in wooden Empacher boats; Wolfson are rowing in a plastic Empacher shell.
