THE SECRETARY'S WELCOME

OURCs

This year's VIIIs consists of the largest entry since 2009, showing that, despite increasing rain and the continued difficulties of fitting sport into the busy Oxford life, college rowing continues to be central to the experience of many at this University.

2025 saw slightly better conditions than 2024, with Torpids able to run for the top divisions and good conditions since then enabling colleges to get plenty of training in, that will hopefully result in some exceptionally fast crews this year!

More than anything, this programme is a testament to the hard work and dedication of countless people. First, the Captains, without whom racing could never occur, no matter how much we might try and organise it – the sheer number of crews entered shows the effort and talent of the current crop. Beyond the Captains, there is a phenomenal team of people who make racing possible: the OURCs Executive Committee of Oscar, Felicity, Connor, and Tobi have been invaluable both in the practicalities of getting racing sorted and as a source of support; Dr. Rachel Quarell, Dr. Paul Azzopardi, and David Seale, alongside the other Senior Umpires, have all been phenomenal supporters, both of racing and the day-to-day operation of college rowing, and have provided much-needed advice and a sense of scale whenever required. As anyone who has ever had to come by Racedesk will know, there is a large team of alumni and OURCs Ordinary Committee Members who really make everything work, from appeals to marshalling and umpiring. It's hard to express just how grateful I am to all these people who give up so much of their annual leave and time simply for the joy of enabling student sport.

Special thanks must go to Suzanne and Q for being the driving force behind the programme this year as well as to all the others who have contributed their time, artwork, photography, and/or extensive knowledge of Bumps to this work.

Best of luck to everyone racing this week!

JACK DAVIES, ST HILDA'S COLLEGE
OURCs SECRETARY 2024/2025

← Division times.

N.B. all racing is an hour earlier on Saturday.

Welcome to Vllls week 2025! Oxford is the home of Bumps racing, with this year marking 210 years since the historic 1815 race between Brasenose and Jesus College Boat Clubs, and this year marking the 201th/202nd event.

Bumps is a unique and exciting form of racing, practised in only a few places in the country and, indeed, the world. The tense battles between crews remain memorable for a lifetime as they fight to hit the boat ahead of them on the river to “gain a bump” and to take their place the following day.

To keep an ear on the progress of racing, please listen closely to the commentary!

Follow the action online!

Official updates to the start order of the previous day’s bumps are published daily on the OURCs website (www.ourcs.co.uk).

Official results and announcements are made via Bluesky at Racedesk (@racedesk.bsky.social).

Slightly more entertaining commentary, often published by volunteer marshals, is made via Bluesky at OURCs (@ourcs.bsky.social).

On the behalf of all those taking part in the event, we wish all spectators many edge-of-your-seat moments and fun in the sunshine. As for the competitors, we hope your boats run fast and your bumps are plentiful and uncontested.

THE EVENT COMMITTEE AND THE OURCS COMMITTEE

GLOSSARY

Term	Definition
Bump	When a crew catches the one ahead and makes contact with it or the coxswain of the crew ahead concedes in order to avoid physical contact. Alternatively, a bump is awarded if a crew fully overtakes or completes the course before the crew ahead. Two crews involved in a bump switch places for the next day's racing.
Row over	When a crew completes the course without bumping nor being bumped, such that the crew stays level for the next day's racing.
Klaxon	If racing becomes unsafe ( e.g. swan in the racing line), airhorns are sounded by marshals to immediately stop the race.
Headship	The honour bestowed upon the highest placed crew on the river ( i.e. Bungline 1, Division 1), with no one ahead to bump.
Footship	The 'honour' bestowed upon the lowest placed crew on the river ( i.e. Bungline 13, Division 7), with no one behind to bump them.
Blades	A crew wins 'blades' by bumping the crew ahead on each of the four days. Who gets blades differs between colleges.
Spoons	A crew wins 'spoons' if they are bumped on each of the four days.
Division	Consisting of 12 crews and 1 sandwich boat, the order for each gender is separated into divisions.
Sandwich boat	A crew at the top of their division that may row at the bottom of the subsequent division of that gender in order to bump up into a higher division.
Bungline	A length of rope with a small block of wood at the end, held by the coxswain, which keeps crews evenly spaced with one and a half lengths of clear water between them.
Appeal	When the announced race result is challenged by a crew.
The Isis	The reach of the Thames that flows through Oxford, as it's locally known. See the circulation pattern at the rear of the programme.

A GUIDE TO BUMPS RACING

The 13 boats in a division, facing upstream on the towpath (southern) bank near Iffley lock at the downstream end of the Isis, with each and every one of their coxswains holding onto their bunglines. The crews, arranged in a starting order determined on the previous day's (or year's) finishing order, nervously excited to catch the crew ahead of them.

Three Winchester model cannons, set in a field near the bunglines, fire blanks to indicate the beginning of racing: the first rips through the air five minutes before racing; the second when there is one minute before and when adrenaline kicks in, and; the third to indicate the start. Meanwhile, tension builds upstream, with spectators waiting for their crews to emerge from the Gut.

"Thirty seconds"

"Bow, take a tap"

"Tap on a bit more"

"Come forward"

"Ten seconds"

"Everyone relax"

"Remember to breathe"

"Five seconds"

"Four"

"Three"

Silence

BANG!

The most alarming half-minute in the entirety of your rowing career.

If there is any delay to the start gun, then the sequence will be resumed from the 1-minute gun. Kindly coaches make their way round to the bunglines, stopwatches in hand, and count down so that crews have some idea when the final gun will go off. When the start gun is fired, the coxes drop their bunglines, which are fished out of the river by watermen, and the crews sprint off, followed by umpires.

The divisions are raced in reverse order, with Women's and Men's Division 1 the final two races of the day. After a bump occurs in Vllls, both crews 'bump out' of the race and pull to one side to let the rest of the division continue. This can result in some 'gardening' as coxes head hurriedly for the bank. If two crews drop out, leaving a large gap in the division, it may be possible for a fast crew to 'overbump' by closing the gap on those ahead, bumping up by 3. Equally, an overbumped crew will drop 3 places rather than the usual 1.

It is common for several crews to bump out of a division, leaving only a few rowing past the boathouses. On the other hand, a successful bump made directly outside one's own boathouse's crowds is considered the most satisfactory result. On rare occasions, a tangle of boats can occur, which often leads to a 'klaxon'. If a crew has been involved in a bump before the klaxon, then it stands. Bumps achieved after the klaxon are discounted and 'technical rowovers' given.

During Summer Vllls, spectators should see all the crews up to three times: once as they push off to warm up for their division; once as they race past (if they haven't bumped out), and; then one final time as they return to their raft. If you don't see your favourites speed past, it's either very good, or very bad, news.

To all racing crews: happy bumping!

THANK YOU!

Events such as Summer VIIIs would be a twinkle in rowers' eyes without the countless hours of work each and every volunteer commits to its organisation. These hours undeniably pay off when we see the fruits of our labour for the thousands of athletes that race and the tens of thousands that watch!

The Event Committee extends its deepest gratitude to the Senior Umpires of the Summer VIIIs 2025. This historic and unique event in Oxford could not have succeeded without your unparalleled dedication, expertise, and generosity. Your commitment to professionalism and experience ensures that every race is conducted under the standards of fairness and equality, protecting the spirit of competition and sportsmanship.

Your 'no stone unturned' to detail and profound understanding of the sport and the events have been instrumental in navigating the complexities of Bumps racing for the Committee. Each decision made from the opening of the river to its close reflects your deep respect for the traditions and integrity of the Oxford rowing community.

We thank you for your tireless efforts, often under challenging conditions and quick turnarounds, to provide a smooth and safe racing experience for all participants. Your guidance and calm presence on and off the water are immensely appreciated by crews, spectators, and by none more than us. As we celebrate another successful year of Summer VIIIs, we acknowledge and commend your significant contribution to making this event a highlight of the Oxford calendar.

Thank you for setting an exemplary standard and for your continued service to the college rowing community. It is very much appreciated.

The Event Committee would also like to take a moment to express our profound gratitude to the Watermen of the Oxford college boat clubs for their exceptional dedication and skills.

Your expertise ensures that every crew is equipped and ready at the bunglines, setting the stage for a safe and fair event. We would also like to thank all the Polemen who assist the Watermen in poling off crews, spending innumerable hours at the bunglines and making Bumps racing as we know it happen.

The amassed four centuries of river and rowing experience between you does not go unnoticed, neither for your efforts in repairing our boats, often done overnight, and preparing us for the start of each race.

The Event Committee would also like to thank the town clubs (City of Oxford Rowing Club, Falcon Boat Club, and the Oxford Amateur Rowing Club), Salter's Steamers, Oxford River Cruises, and the City Barge Boat Club for their support and cooperation with the college rowing community, especially for events like VIIIs!

Last, but not least, the Event Committee must thank Epione Medical Services for their consistent quality and for putting up with us for so many years...

OURCs

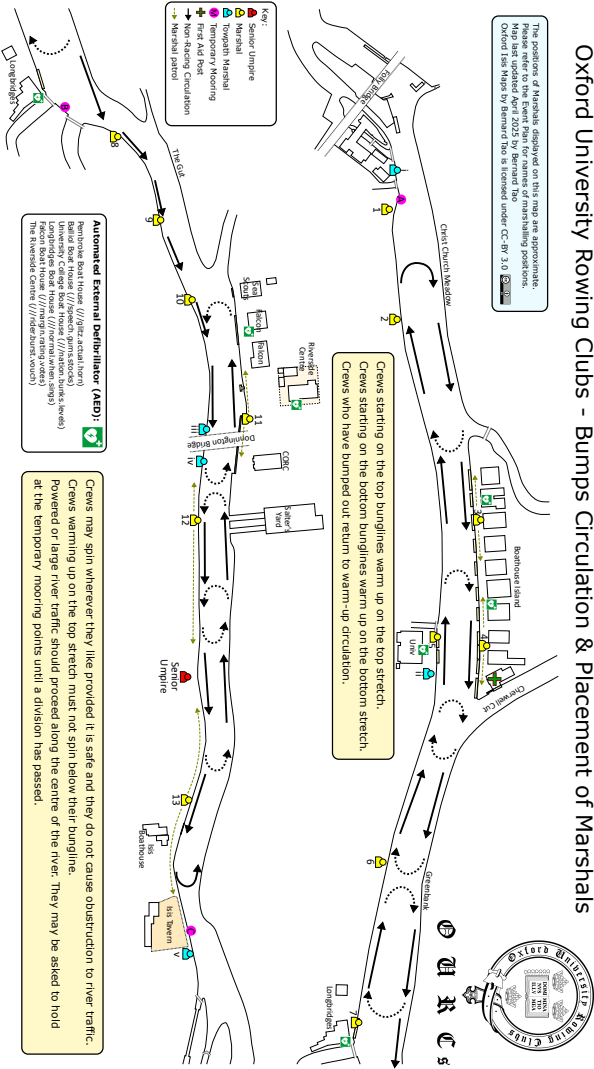

The Committee is charged with the day-to-day organisation of OURCs by supporting safe rowing at the collegiate level, and routinely finds itself organising swim tests, coxing registrations and briefings, and so on!

For events, the Secretary appoints at least one Race Secretary (often themselves), and convenes an Event Committee, consisting of generous alumni and current students, who support the Race Secretary in the events' safe and smooth running. If any current members of the Oxford college rowing community would like to get involved with OURCs, either on Committee or to help out at Racedesk, please get in touch with the Secretary (secretary@ourcs.co.uk).
